Redding Rancheria Economic Development Corporation (RREDCO) and Redding Rancheria Environmental Vegetation Management Corporation (RREVMCO) help hold the line for the Park Fire line along TEH-36W

Redding, Calif. – The Redding Rancheria Economic Development Corporation (RREDCO) is pleased to announce the progress of the Redding Rancheria Environmental Vegetation Management Corporation (RREVMCO), a new venture dedicated to the care and preservation of our natural environment. This company focuses on providing essential services aimed at protecting against the devastating effects of wildfires that have plagued California and many other states.

Effective January 2023, RREVMCO and EVM started working together with a singular mission – to take the wildfire challenge head-on, perform the highest quality work, and ensure that our efforts are environmentally sound and culturally sensitive. Our work includes creating defensible space, shaded fuel breaks, access road clearing, utility pole clearing, and eliminating excess fuel from forest floors.

We are proud to announce that EVM's work has significantly contributed to the creation of the effective defensible line along TEH-36W that CALFIRE is currently holding. Due to the Park Fire, TEH-36W is closed, and no service is expected tomorrow. We will assess the situation next week to continue future contract service efforts.

Great job to all our team members for their dedication and hard work!
