REDDING RANCHERIA CELEBRATES FINAL BEAM RAISING CEREMONY FOR TRIBAL HEALTH VILLAGE

Yesterday, the Redding Rancheria proudly placed the final structural beam atop the highly anticipated Redding Rancheria Tribal Health Village, marking a major milestone toward the completion of what will become one of the most advanced and revolutionary healthcare delivery systems in California.

More than just another health center, the Tribal Health Village represents a transformational vision for healthcare, one centered on prevention, wellness, whole-body healing, scientific advancement, compassion, and the healing of generational trauma.

The nearly 195,000-square-foot facility is being designed to fundamentally redefine how healthcare is delivered by integrating modern medicine with functional medicine, behavioral health, wellness, fitness, preventative care, and culturally grounded healing practices into one unified system of care.

“This is not simply a construction milestone, it is a promise to our Tribal members, our Native people, our employees, and our community,” said Glen Hayward, Executive Director. “Today we celebrate the future of healthcare. A future where patients are treated with dignity, compassion, innovation, and whole-person care. The way healthcare should be delivered.”

Once completed, the Tribal Health Village will stand as one of the largest and most comprehensive Tribal healthcare campuses in California, bringing together state-of-the-art medical services, advanced wellness resources, behavioral health support, fitness and rehabilitation services, and preventative care initiatives under one roof.

The beam raising ceremony symbolizes more than the completion of a structural framework, it symbolizes hope, resilience, vision, and the continued commitment of the Redding Rancheria to improve the health and well-being of generations to come.

Today, the Redding Rancheria celebrates its Tribal members, Native communities, dedicated team members, project partners, and the broader community that we continue to serve.
